8 Things You Should Know Before You Enrol in A Private School

School Registration
Ensure the school is registered with CPE. Review the school's registration period, expiry date and its overall registration track record.

Partner Institution
Research on the partner institution conferring the diploma or degree, and whether the qualification is recognised by the industry.

EduTrust Certification Scheme
Is the school EduTrust-certified*? Under the scheme, private schools are assessed for their performance in areas such as school management and provision of student support services.

School Premises
Head down to the campus ground to check the facilities and support services. Observe the study environment too.

Fee Protection
Ask if there is any course fee protection so that you will be able to recover unconsumed course fees should the school close down.

Beyond Course fees
Find out about the course syllabus and materials, graduation rates and employment prospects. Approach the alumni to find out what they think of the school.

Teachers
Check if the teachers are qualified to teach the course.

Internship
If industry attachment is included, find out which organisation you will be attached to, the period of attachment and the alternative arrangement should the attachment become unavailable. Verify the information with the organisation as well.

Thinking About Your Next Step

Progression Opportunities

Where will my qualifications lead me after graduation?

Who am I?

The more I know about myself, the better my decisions.

Where do I want to go?

There are many pathways with opportunities for continuous learning and recognition.

How do I get there?

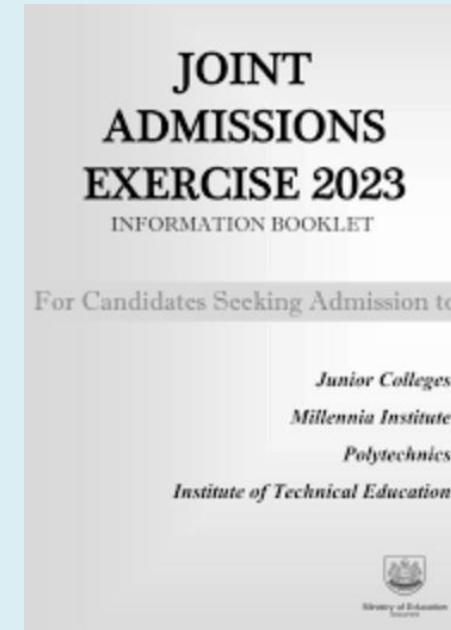

Be resilient, explore various pathways and be open to possibilities.

- It is important that you should consider courses that are comparable to your aggregate scores, for better fit and better chances of being admitted.

Key Messages for JAE

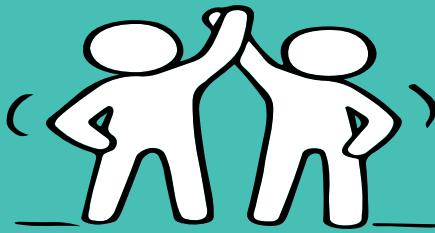

2. Make full use of your 12 choices

- Make a considered decision of all 12 choices because there is a chance that you will be posted to one of them.
- Do check that you qualify for the course you are applying for.

JC or polytechnic? How to guide your child in making a choice

The Straits Times, 9 Jan 2023

Mrs Yap feels that the pathways her sons picked matched their learning styles and interests and, as a result, they are thriving in their fields.

“Both pathways are equally viable. There is no need to be too hung up over whether it is a polytechnic or JC, but rather, choose the pathway that will bring out the best in your child,” she said.

One way to do so is to understand the learning style and aspirations of the child, she said. “Play the role of a sounding board and let your children make their own decisions,” she suggested.

She had initially wanted her sons to be a doctor or lawyer, but one of them told her, “Mum, this is what you want, and not what I want”, she recalled.

“It made me realise that, ultimately, I want my children to be happy, be successful in their own way and reach their own aspirations. That is most important,” she added.

Poly is not necessarily easier than JC

NP's principal, Mr Lim, said discipline is required for students to thrive.

Students do 25 to 30 modules over six semesters, with a flexible timetable.

They may have just a few hours of lessons on one day, and a full day of activities and projects on another. Some courses are examination-free and students are assessed on project work, presentations or assignments.

"As the learning is more self-directed, it takes a different kind of discipline to thrive in a polytechnic environment. It is not necessarily easier than the JC route," said Mr Lim.

Singapore Polytechnic's principal, Mr Soh Wai Wah, said students should also be able to work well in teams and be open to the range of opportunities offered by the polytechnic for a holistic education.

Ms Jeanne Liew, principal of Nanyang Polytechnic, said that since all polytechnics work on a Grade Point Average system, consistency is important.

Candid in sharing his father's "traditional" expectation for him to do well in school. But at the same time, he was always given the space to make his own choices.

Scored eight distinctions at the O-Levels and chose to continue his learning in Ngee Ann Polytechnic before going on to SMU.

No matter the circumstances, there is always a way forward.

Stop

- Calm yourself down. Take a few deep breaths.

Think

- Think through the different options that are available for you. Keep things in perspective.
- Remember that the O-Level is one part of your life journey and not the destination.

Do

- Approach a trusted adult and seek his/her help. Have a conversation with this person about what would be best for you.
- Make a decision and take action based on your options.

When you receive your results, you may experience a range of emotions.

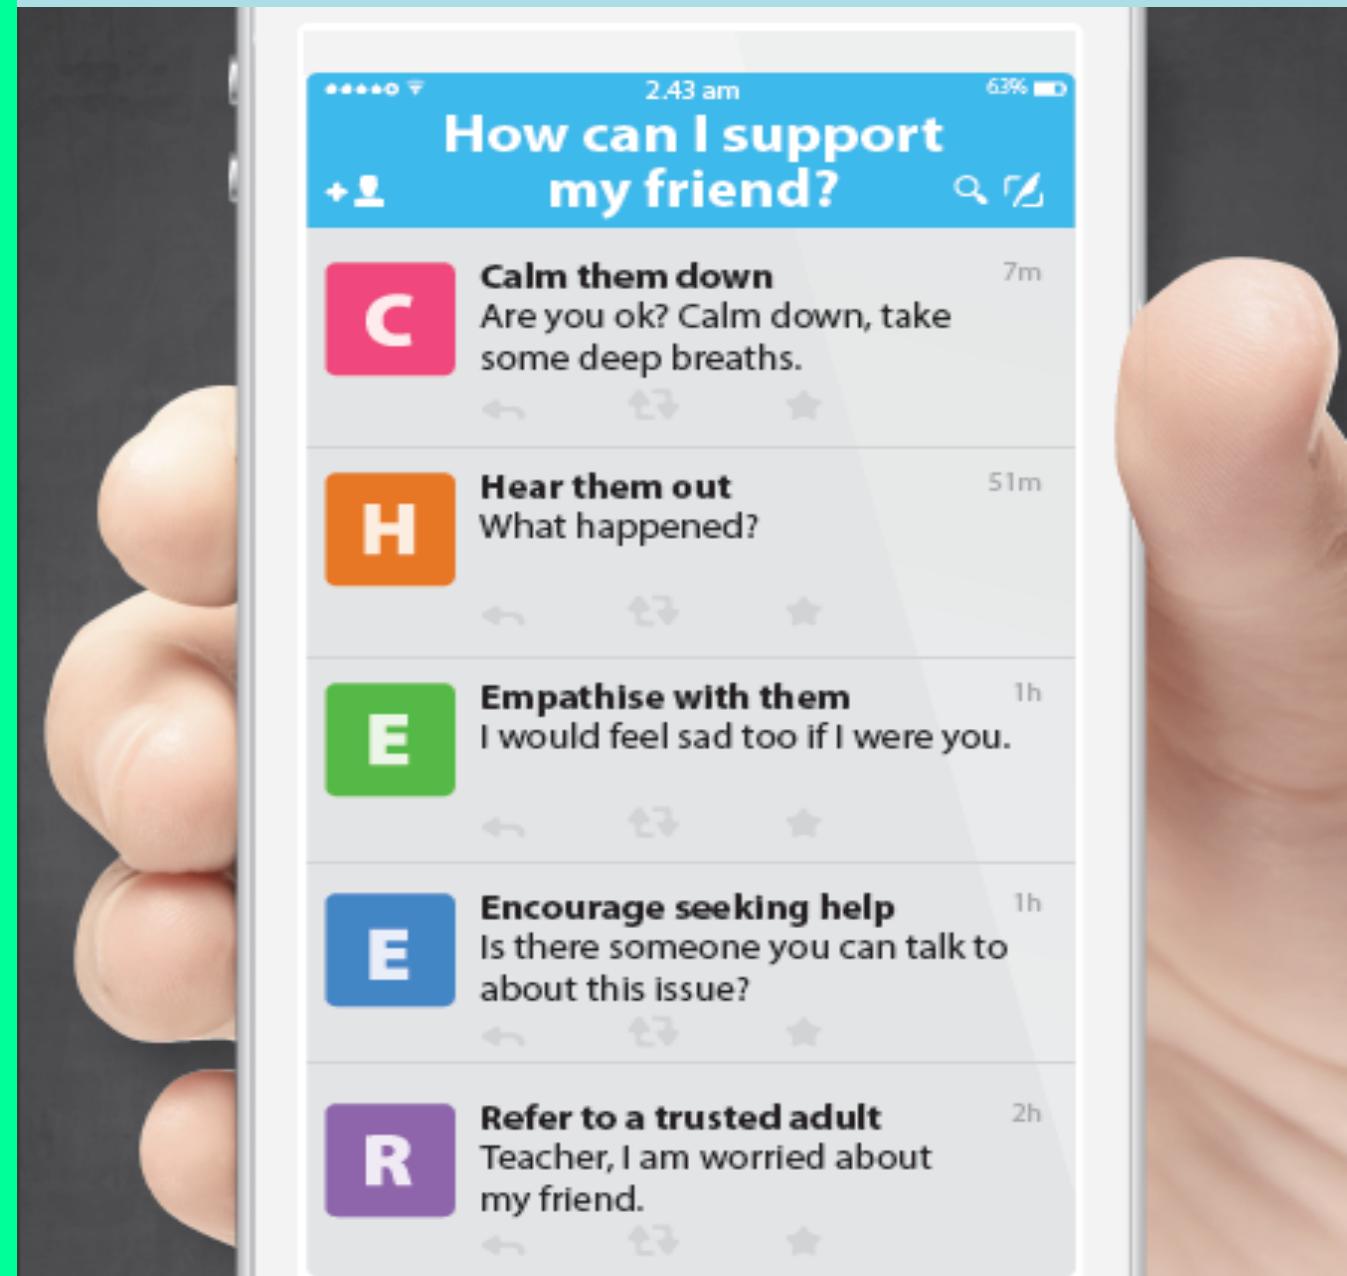

Managing these emotions well will allow you to stay calm and make rational decisions.

Supporting Your Friends

We may each experience different emotions upon receiving the results. You can share your friends' joy by congratulating them or give words of encouragement to friends who may be disappointed with their results.

Keep a lookout for your friends in distress. You can support them in the following ways:

How can I support my friend?

Calm them down

Are you ok? Calm down, take some deep breaths.

Hear them out

What happened?

Empathise with them

I would feel sad too if I were you.

Encourage seeking help

Is there someone you can talk to about this issue?

Refer to a trusted adult

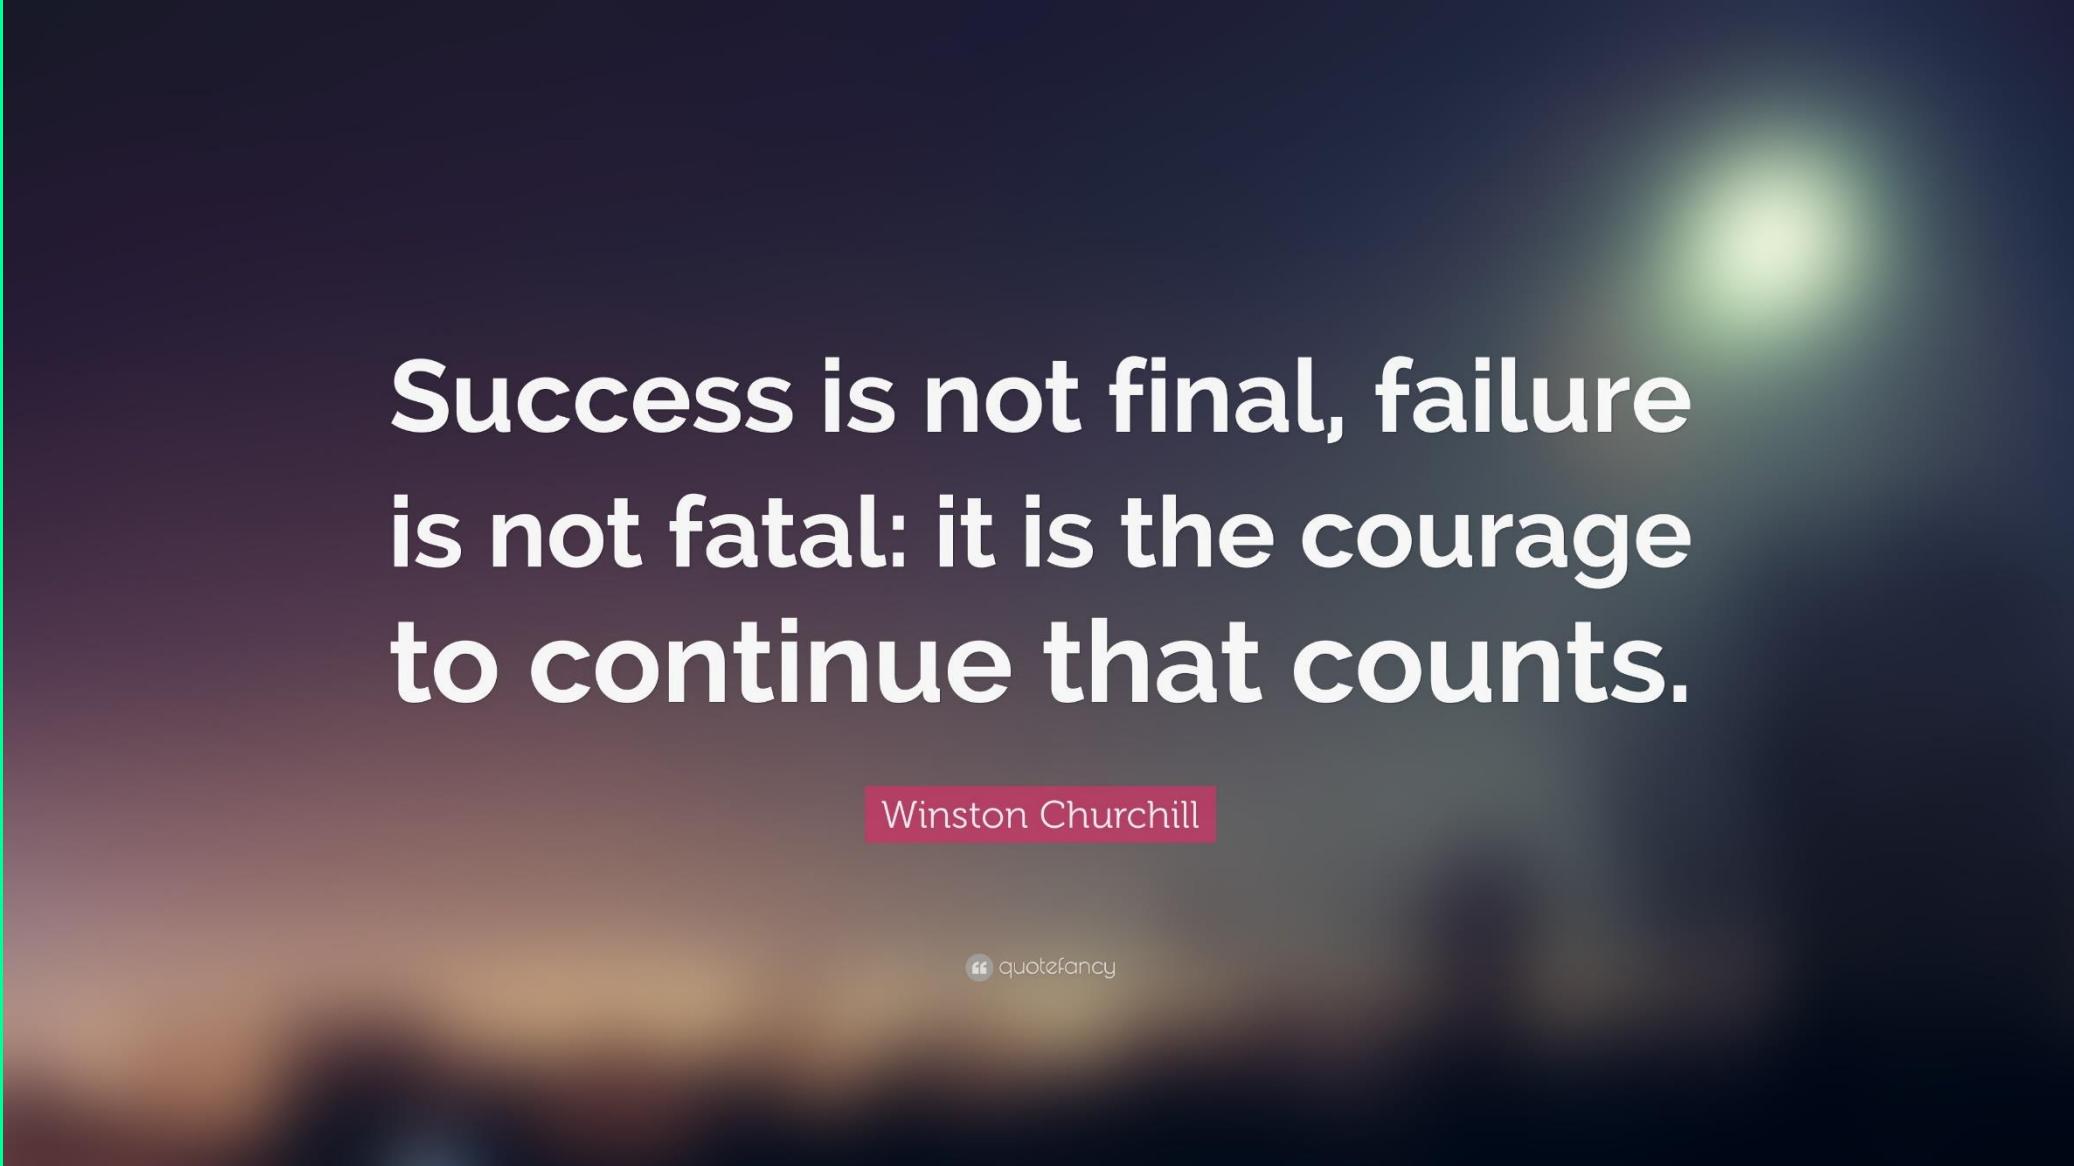

Teacher, I am worried about my friend.

Is there someone we can speak with?

Reaching out for help is a sign of strength, not weakness.

If you have any concerns or are not coping, do reach out to someone you trust and speak with them. It could be a parent/guardian, teacher, School Counsellor or a friend that you can talk to.

to continue that counts.
